Opera Chief Rendezvous for Society Until Easter Season

Titled Visitors Join Regular Habitués at the Metropolitan—Mrs. Asquith to Give Farewell Lecture on Her American Experiences.

THAT spirit of restlessness sure to prevail after a long fashionable season and which already has caused flittings from one shore to another of this continent and many crossings of the oceans east and west of us seems not to have had great effect as far as the appearance of society, particularly at the Metropolitan Opera, where again, even in Lent, audiences have had all the stamp of full season.

Last Wednesday in particular there were many of the regular habitués in their accustomed boxes and several titled visitors. The young Princess Marie de Bourbon, who is here at a convent school, was with Mrs. A. Nelson Lewis, and with Mrs. J. Russell Soley were Count and Countess Mario Carracolo of Italy. The Countess, an American, was Miss Crosby of Virginia. Countess Scherr-Thoss again was with her father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry White. The opera is sure to be the chief rendezvous for society until the Easter season.

All the great ocean steamships seem to be leaving these shores crowded, and neither tales of discomforts that some say they find abroad nor the great cost of present day travel deters them. According to some accounts it takes a moderate fortune even to cross the ocean. All ocean travelers are not leaving for foreign countries, as there have been recent arrivals from Europe. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, who went to Paris last autumn to pass a part of the winter at their home there, which they have maintained for some years. Another recent arrival from the French capital was Mrs. Wayne Cuyler, formerly of Morristown, N. J., who has lived for many years in Europe. Her daughter, now Mrs. Richard McCreery, formerly was the wife of Sir Philip Gray Egerton, Bart. As Miss May Cuyler Mrs. McCreery was considered one of the great American beauties, whose success in society in London and on the continent of Europe was marked.

Mrs. Marshall Orme Wilson, who plans to sail on April 12, will visit in Bern, Switzerland, her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. Orme Wilson, Jr., who recently were transferred from the diplomatic life of Brussels. Mr. Wilson was appointed to Belgium soon after the close of the war, and in Brussels he was able with much difficulty to find a suitable home. Mrs. Wilson, Jr., was Miss Alice Borland, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelson Borland and a granddaughter of the late George Griswold Haven.

Mr. Henry Prather Fletcher has started for his new post as Ambassador to Belgium accompanied by Mrs. Fletcher, who was Miss Beatrice Bend, a daughter of the late George H. Bend. Her mother is one of the surviving sisters of the late Isaac Townsend, and Mrs. Fletcher is a niece of Mrs. Henry Asher Robbins of this city and Asher House, Southampton, L. I. She is the sister of Mrs. Cortlandt Field Bishop. Another prominent member of New York society who will sail on April 20 is Mr. Warren Delano Robbins, recently appointed Counselor of the American Embassy in Berlin. Mr. Robbins, who is the son of Mrs. Price Collier, married Miss Irene de Bruyn, who will accompany him to his new post.

Mrs. Barclay Ulman, who passed the winter at the Ambassador, was a passenger on board the Olympic yesterday. She will go directly to Paris to join her daughter, Miss Audrey Barclay Ulman, who has been at boarding school in Paris since last September. Mrs. Ulman and her daughter will leave Paris for Spain on April 11 to remain until the end of the month. Early in May the Duchess de Montmorency, aunt of Miss Ulman, will give a dance in Paris for her niece, who next winter will be introduced to society in New York at the home of her mother in East Eighty-first street. Mrs. Ulman's young sons will be for the summer at an American camp in the neighborhood of Aix-les-Bains, which will be directed by Mr. Morris Blake. Mrs. Ulman's sisters, Mrs. S. Oakley Van der Pool and Mrs. Andre de Coppet, are to sail by the Olympic on June 8, accompanied by their husbands and children. Mr. and Mrs. de Coppet will go to their estate in Switzerland and Mr. and Mrs. Van der Pool will be for the summer in St. Jean de Luz, not far from Biarritz. Mrs. Bushrod Rust Bayne, mother of Mrs. Ulman, who has been in Paris for two years, will sail for New York the middle of June and will be for the summer in Shore Hills, N. J.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, also a passenger on board the Olympic, will go at once to her hotel in Paris, where she will be joined during the summer by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. Olin, who sailed several weeks ago. Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden, who has been in England with her brother, Lord Ferny, expects to sail for New York April 12 and will pass the summer at Elm Court, the villa of her mother, Mrs. Burke Roche, in Newport. Mrs. Roche expects to sail for Europe late this month.

Among the passengers on the outgoing trip of the Homeric were Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, her daughter, Miss Annie Burr Auchincloss, and her niece, Miss Constance Jennings, bound for Spain. Another passenger on that steamship was Mrs. Philip G. Sawyer, who at almost a day's notice decided to take the trip to Spain and to be in Seville at Easter time, where the music in the ancient cathedral of the city has for centuries been famous. Mrs. Sawyer will return to New York in a month's time. Mrs. Auchincloss and her party expect to return here in June. After passing the greater part of the winter at Palm Beach Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs now is in Paris, where the spring season is so interesting. Her sister, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt 2d, soon will join Mrs. Oelrichs. Miss Mabel Gerry, who had obtained passage on a steamship sailing ten days ago, gave it up, and instead will sail by the early June trip of the Homeric. Miss Gerry has taken a house for the season in London, where she had one last year. Miss Zelma Clark, daughter of Mrs. D. Crawford Clark, is now in Italy with her uncle, Mr. Samuel S. Keyser. Mr. and Mrs. William McNair sailed for Italy two weeks ago and on returning will go to London, their home in England.

Mrs. M. Brennan Washington and her sister, Miss Beulah Brennan, now on their way to Europe, will travel in England, France and Spain, and will remain until the autumn. They will go to Spain with Mrs. Barclay Ulman and in the summer will visit the island of Jersey, the birthplace of their mother. Mr. Ogden Mills expects to sail on April 22 and will pass the summer with Lord and Lady Grand. The home of Mr. Mills in Paris will be placed at the disposal of Viscount Lascelles and his bride, who was Princess Mary, where already Lord and Lady Grand, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. Mills, have gone to arrange the house, which is in the Rue de Varenne.

Under the auspices of the Society of Friends of Rumania, Mrs. Herbert Asquith, who is sailing for her home in England on Tuesday, will deliver a farewell lecture on "My American Experiences and Impressions of Rumania" tomorrow night in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria. After the lecture a bon voyage reception for Mrs. Asquith will be held in the saloon adjoining the ballroom. Mr. William Nelson Cromwell, president of the society, will introduce Mrs. Asquith, and assisting him at the reception will be Mr. T. T. Weston Wells of New York, who is the Consul-General of Rumania here. Prince and Princess Antoine Bibesco have come on from Washington to be with her mother until she sails, and they will be at the reception. It is announced that no contributions of any nature will be invited or received tomorrow night. Mrs. Asquith has received considerable attention since her visit here and has been included at gatherings in prominent houses, and her remarks are looked forward to. Among members of the committee, in addition to Messrs. Cromwell and Wells are Bishop James Henry Darlington, Dr. Louis Livingston Seaman, Messrs. F. Cunliffe-Owen, S. Brock P. Trowbridge, James W. Gerard, Percival Farquhar, Edward P. Mellon, Abram I. Elkus and Leon Ferrar.

There will be a special matinee of "Aida" next Thursday afternoon at the Metropolitan Opera House for the benefit of the National Child Labor Committee, which since its organization has been investigating the abuses of child labor throughout the country. One of the notable achievements of the organization was the establishment of the Federal Children's Bureau and the Federal tax on child labor. When the latter went into effect it caused the removal of 150,000 children under 14 from mines, quarries, factories and canneries where they had been employed.

Miss Juliana Cutting of 565 Park avenue has on sale the boxes and some of the orchestra seats. Among those who have obtained boxes or seats are Messrs. Henry White, W. Bayard Cutting, W. Watts Sherman, C. Lorillard Spencer, J. Sergeant Cram, Arthur B. Twombly, William H. Hirst, Lytleton Fox, Paul M. Warburg, Joseph Palmer Knapp, Charles B. Alexander, Charles Steele, John Henry Hammond, Frederick C. Perkins, Miss Anne Depew Paulding, Messrs. R. Fulton Cutting, Charles T. Matthews and Clarence H. Mackay.

Mrs. Harding to Be Patroness for Camp Fire Girls' Benefit

First Time She Has Given Her Name for an Event Outside Washington.

MRS. WARREN G. HARDING, who wears the Wobelo pin of the Camp Fire Girls, heads the list of patronesses for their benefit, "The Snow Maiden," to be given at the Metropolitan Opera House on Thursday afternoon, April 20. This will be the first time Mrs. Harding has served as a patroness for an event which does not take place in Washington. The letter from the White House said: "Although Mrs. Harding does not give her name as patroness to any benefit performance outside of Washington, she feels because of her connection with Camp Fire Girls she can make an exception, and so it gives her much pleasure to be a patroness for this occasion."

The committee in charge is Mrs. Oliver Harriman, president of Camp Fire Girls; Mrs. E. Oakley Rhineland, Mrs. Shepherd K. de Forest, Mrs. Edward N. Breitung, Mrs. Grant Squire, Mrs. Clifford McAllister, Mrs. Samuel F. Stret, Mrs. Henry Clark Coe, Mrs. Alice McKay Kelly, Mrs. R. Wyle Lyle and Mrs. Samuel Robert Kaufman.

Ball to Be Held for National Navy Club

Mrs. Edward Clarkson Potter, who is a constant worker for the success of the National Navy Club of New York, is organizing a ball to aid that organization, which will be held on the night of Easter Tuesday, April 18, at the Ritz-Carlton, and with the assistance of her niece, Mrs. Marlin Sapotnik, she has enlisted the services of a committee of young married women, including Misses, Pal de Saint Phalle, John R. Drexel, Jr., Shannon Lord Meany, James Lenox Banks, Jr., Frederick Alexander, Herbert C. Fell, Jr., David T. L. Van Buren and James B. Taylor, Jr. The committee also will include Misses Audrey Hoffman, Genevieve Clendenen, Luisa Steelman Wilson, Wanders Matthews, Isabel Pell, Muriel Vanderbilt, Jeanne Reynal, Felicia Plak and Roberta Willard.

The club is permanently established and is a shore rendezvous for enlisted men of the Navy and Marine Corps when on leave. An attempt to purchase the property at 13 and 15 East Forty-first street, where the club is located, has been made for lack of funds it has been found necessary to mortgage the holding. The ambition of the committee now is to pay off this mortgage, so that the property may become free and clear and the hospitality of the club continue from this site, which is so admirably suited to the purpose.

Records of the club show that during the last year sleeping accommodations have been provided for 25,000 men, and it is due to the fidelity of a group of women that the club was moved from its first existence in a room at 509 Fifth avenue to its present spacious quarters. The canteen still is run by many of the same women, among whom are Misses, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Julian W. Robbins, Charles A. Childs, Edward Telford, Gregory Sutton, Oliver Harriman and Duncan Harris. Secretary of the Navy Edwin H. Denby and the Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., have consented to act as honorary patrons. Miss Beth Evans, 8 West Fortieth street, will have the tickets on sale.

Notable Weddings and Engagements Announced

Miss Katharine W. Thompson, War Worker, Becomes Bride To-day in Manila of Lieut. Osborne C. Wood, Son of Governor-General and Mrs. Wood.

AN interesting wedding takes place in the Governor-General's mansion at Manila, P. I., to-day, when Miss Katharine Wilson Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Thompson of Wilmington, Del., becomes the bride of Lieut. Osborne C. Wood, U. S. A., son of Governor-General and Mrs. Leonard A. Wood. Miss Thompson, who is a member of his father's staff, and his bride will return to this country. The wedding is of much interest to society, not only in New York but other cities as well, for Miss Thompson is one of the best known young women in America. She has traveled extensively and is known in almost every capital of Europe as well as in all the principal cities of this country. She has one of the best war records of any American girl, for she was on duty in some capacity or another for almost the entire duration of the world conflict.

She went abroad in 1917 as a member of the Philadelphia Emergency Aid and served three months with that unit in Paris. Subsequently she joined the American Red Cross and was with Miss Kitchener, sister of Lord Kitchener, at Dinan, France, her work being among refugees. Finally she obtained permission to go to the front and spent three months in an evacuation hospital at Dard Laus, remaining until the armistice was signed. Afterward she went to Paris and drove in Mrs. J. Borden Harriman's Motor Corps and later responded to Mr. Herbert Hoover's request to take charge of the supplies of food and clothing for the Belgian children. After six months there she returned home for a visit, and then went to France again with Miss Anne Morgan as a member of her unit in its work around the devastated Anvy-le-Coteau.

On returning from France in January she went to the Philippines to visit Mrs. Wood. Miss Thompson is descended from one of the most distinguished American families. She is a granddaughter of Gen. James Harrison Wilson, the famous cavalry commander in the civil war and captor of Jefferson Davis. He was at one time Governor General of Porto Rico, and is the only civil war officer of his rank still living. He is past 85 years old.

Rosa Ponselle to Sing With Glee Clubs for Vassar

Mendelssohn and University Organizations to Combine Forces First Time.

FOR the first time in their history the Mendelssohn and University Glee clubs will combine forces and will be heard in a joint recital on Tuesday evening, April 18, at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Not only will this be the first time the clubs have appeared together but it will be one of the few occasions on which the general public may purchase tickets. These are usually sold through membership subscriptions only. The proceeds from the concert will go to swell the coffers of the Vassar College Salary Endowment Fund, which still lacks the final $500,000 toward its $3,000,000 goal. The clubs will be assisted by Miss Rosa Ponselle of the Metropolitan.

A large number of boxes and tickets already have been sold for the concert and others may be obtained from Vassar College Salary Endowment Fund Headquarters, 258 Madison avenue. Checks should be made payable to Mrs. Elton Huntington Hooker, chairman of the Metropolitan District Committee.

Among those who have purchased boxes are Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, Mrs. Louis Morris Starr, Miss Belle Stinner, Mr. Julius H. Barnes, Mrs. Edward W. Sparrow, Mrs. Ferrars H. Towns, Mrs. P. S. Block Party in Aid of Crippled Children

Something entirely novel in New York city by way of an entertainment for charity is being arranged for the middle of next week by the Association for the Aid of Crippled Children, of which Mrs. Edgar S. Auchincloss, Jr., is president and in whose behalf the Rainbow Ball of last Friday night was given at the Ritz-Carlton. It will be what is known as a block party. The action of the town to be used for that purpose will be the blocks, where there are central places, extending from Forty-seventh to Fifth street in Park avenue.

Mrs. Lydia Hoyt, who has gained experience since her debut on the professional stage, will manage an open air theater and, as was the case at the street fair held last summer in Southampton, there will be a well appointed circus, a merry-go-round and side shows. Mr. E. Burrall Hoffman, Jr., is preparing the architectural plans and there will be no interference with street traffic owing to the space given by the piazzas which are such a feature of Park avenue. Mrs. Arthur B. Claffin is acting as chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Lytleton Fox, Mrs. George R. D. Schellert, Mrs. George Harten French, Mrs. August Belmont and Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer. Mrs. A. Steward Walker will be in charge of the

Debutantes to Do Vaudeville Stunts at Dutch Festival

Novel Program Arranged to Aid in Restoration of Roosevelt Birthplace.

WITHOUT waiting for the busy post-Easter season that will be filled with wedding celebrations, dances and other entertainments, the Dutch Festival, for the benefit of a fund to complete the Roosevelt House, at 28 East Twentieth street, will be the feature of next Friday, when from noon to midnight it will attract beyond doubt many persons with well filled purses to the Plaza.

Mrs. William Curtis Demorest is at the head of the committee, which promises reasonable prices and strict business dealings with each and every purchaser.

In combination with booths for the sale of all sorts of commodities, tea will be served, and there will be a dinner and dance, the receipts from which will help swell the fund to make the birthplace of the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt a civic center. Nearly 300 dinners have been subscribed for, and there will be room for more than that number. Tickets for dinner, dance and vaudeville will cost $6 each.

Debutantes are rehearsing at the Plaza to take part in the vaudeville with several dances, under the direction of Miss Lila Stewart. They include the millineries, headed by Miss Charlotte Demorest, who will act as models and sell hats in the sale conducted by Mrs. Francis Carolan and Mrs. Oliver B. Belington. There will be a dance in the vaudeville by the Dutch maidens, who will serve in the tea room under Mrs. Frederic Sterry.

Basil Durant and Miss Mary McCord are to do an exhibition dance in the ball room during dinner.

The book store committee includes Mrs. Samuel Lambert, Mrs. Henry A. Adams, who will sell drawings and photographs as well as books.

Mrs. Molla Mallory has promised to be present all day in the sports department and will show a few fancy curves in the tennis racket. There will be a fine display of sports clothes, golf clubs, showing those of the earliest style and those of the newest and latest style; also golf balls bearing famous signatures.

The sports committee includes Mrs. Edward Field Sanford, chairman, who is secretary of the Women's Golf Association; Mrs. M. D. Putnam, president of the Women's Golf Association; Mrs. F. G. D. Bois, president of the Women's Polo Association; Mrs. H. T. Eschwege and Mrs. R. Percy Thompson, of the Women's Golf Association executive committee.

Miss Dorothy Donnelly will be one of the oracles to tell fortunes. Those who wish tickets for a profession or first aid to the injured had been thought of.

Charter members and their descendants as patronesses are Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Henry B. Thompson, Mrs. William D. Morgan, Mrs. William H. Osborn, Miss Elizabeth Wisner, the Misses Georgina and Louisa Leo Schuyler, and two other great-granddaughters of Alexander Hamilton. Miss Louisa Leo Schuyler organized the State Charities Aid Association, of which the New York City Visiting Committee is an institution. The association celebrates here on May 11 the fiftieth anniversary of its founding.

Other patronesses are Madames Edw. Ziegler, John Moorhead, Henry Fairfield Osborn, Frederick L. Crampton, James F. Curtis, William Pierson Hamilton, Henry P. Fletcher, Russell H. Handley, Otto H. Kahn, C. Grant Laforce, Thomas W. Lamont, Herbert L. Pratt, John T. Pratt, Thomas M. Ryan, Willard D. Straight, Frederick Whitridge, Charles L. Tiffany, Miss Blanche Potter and Miss Frances White.

Miss Farrar in "Carmen" For Charities Association

Patronesses of the performance of "Carmen" to be given at the Metropolitan Opera House, with Miss Farrar in the title role, on the afternoon of April 17, for the benefit of the New York City Visiting Committee of the State Charities Aid Association, include four of the original members and several descendants of the first members of the committee. The group was organized in 1873 before nursing was a profession or first aid to the injured had been thought of.

Charter members and their descendants as patronesses are Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Henry B. Thompson, Mrs. William D. Morgan, Mrs. William H. Osborn, Miss Elizabeth Wisner, the Misses Georgina and Louisa Leo Schuyler, and two other great-granddaughters of Alexander Hamilton. Miss Louisa Leo Schuyler organized the State Charities Aid Association, of which the New York City Visiting Committee is an institution. The association celebrates here on May 11 the fiftieth anniversary of its founding.

Mme. Calve to Sing for St. Johnland Community

St. Johnland is a community of homes at Kings Park, on the north shore of Long Island, where old men and women, aged couples, children and infants are cared for, and it takes considerable money to supply the needs of the schools that are provided for the winter. During the summer months these children are given manual training and in domestic science. With the hope of raising sufficient funds for the school work a recital will be given by Mme. Emma Calve on the night of May 4 in Carnegie Hall.

Mr. Robert L. Harrison is president of the society and Mrs. Robert W. B. Elliott, Jr., is at the head of the auxiliary committee of women who are arranging the concert. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Lefferts, 152 East Seventy-fourth street, also at Carnegie Hall. Among other members of the auxiliary are Misses, Emma Harman Aldrich, Thomas Young, George P. Clover, Charles D. Miller, Henry Mett, Gustav Schwab, George Zabriskie, J. Hull Browning, Montague Flagg, Harcourt B. Duryea, Devereux Edmund, August Heckbacher, Francis C. Huntington, Clarence C. Varman and Henry Dwight Chapin.
